

USE OF WEBSITE

The MCEAP website is intended to provide members and potential members of MCEAP and the public easy access to educational information and resources.

The information contained in the website is copyrighted and belongs to MCEAP. MCEAP grants users the right to print unaltered copies of information from this site for their personal and educational use. Visitors to the website may not modify, publicly distribute, publish, license, transfer or attempt to sell anything obtained from the MCEAP website.

INFORMATION ACCURACY

MCEAP has made every effort to ensure that the information found on its web pages is accurate as of the date posted. The information on the site is either created by the MCEAP, its members or by sources that MCEAP believes to be reliable. However, there is a possibility of human or computer error and MCEAP provides no representations or warranties regarding the website or the information contained therein.

UPDATES AND AVAILABILITY

MCEAP reserves the right to make updates to its website. MCEAP is committed to providing a website available at all times. However, due to circumstances beyond our control this will not always be possible. MCEAP will not be responsible for any damages claimed as a result of this site not being available.

PRIVACY STATEMENT

Visitors to the MCEAP website remain anonymous. We do not collect identifying information about visitors to our site.

Visitors and attendees to events who register through the MCEAP site understand that their contact information will be used for registration and promoting future MCEAP events exclusively. Any contact information provided, including E-mail address, is used internally, as appropriate, to handle the sender's request. It is not disseminated or sold to other organizations.